(These quote bubbles will appear in succession one after another)

Did you hear David Tarvin is now a web developer?

Really? What kind of work has he done?

Well he's just starting out, so he hasn't done a lot, but he does have a few projects we can see. Just take a look below.

(words will fade in)

Hi, my name's David Tarvin.
I started learning web development in 2017.
I would love to show you what I've learned so far.
Just click on a link to see a project.

(each oval is a quote bubble that will bring up a project I've worked on.)

(clicking a link will open a popup showing the project.)
